WORK OF THE WIND

Destructive Cyclone in South-eastern Missouri.

TWO MEN INSTANTLY KILLED.

A Score of Others Injured, Half of Them Fatally—A Passenger Train Blown Completely From the Track—The Cyclone Reaches Memphis Killing One Man and Injuring Two Others.

CHARLESTON, Mo., Sept. 13.—Two men were killed and a score of people injured, half of them fatally, in a cyclone here yesterday, during which a train was blown from the track.

The following are the names of the killed:

Parmelia Dempsey, Bertrand, Mo.

Freddie McClelland, Eldorado, Ills.

Among the score of injured only the following names could be secured:

C. T. Coyle, baggagemaster, badly bruised.

John C. Davis, Eldorado, Ills., leg broken.

J. W. Dexter, Centertown, O., internal.

W. H. Decamp, Hamilton, O., head badly hurt.

A. D. Leming, Alto Pass, Ills., fatally injured.

H. W. Hester, Moorehouse, Mo., shoulder dislocated.

G. W. Humphrey, Leora, Mo., arm broken.

George McCloudon, Poplin, Mo., arm badly hurt.

Mrs. J. W. McCullum, Dexter, Mo., arm broken.

G. H. Miller, Corning, Ark., badly bruised.

John C. Davis, Eldorado, Ills., leg broken.

J. W. Nexton, Centertown, O., internal injuries.

W. H. Decamp, Hamilton, O., head badly hurt.

H. W. Hester, Moorehead, Mo., shoulder dislocated.

George McClendan, Joplin, Mo., arm badly hurt.

Mrs. J. W. McCullum, Dexter, Mo., arm broken.

G. H. Miller, Corning, Ark., badly injured.

It was about 3 o'clock in the afternoon when the westbound express on the Cairo branch of the Iron Mountain road was struck by the hurricane, and the result was one of the most serious wrecks ever known on the system. The train, in charge of Conductor Jack Lower and Engineer Andy Hill, had just reached the limits of the city, when passengers and crew noticed the approach of a funnel-shaped cloud that was dealing destruction to everything in its path, uprooting large trees and hurling missiles before it. The train and the cyclone met and the wind lifted the entire line of coaches and landed them a distance of 20 feet from the track, almost turning them completely over.

Those who were not hurt seriously hastened to free themselves and rescue those who were not so fortunate. Efforts were being made in the direction when a new danger presented itself. Flames were seen in the rear of the train, and only for the heroic action of Brakeman Cartwell, an even worse catastrophe might have been recorded. He hastily secured a heavy piece of timber and battered down the door of the car, rushed in and succeeded in extinguishing the fire with hand grenades. Nearby was a woman and little child, whose clothing had ignited, and hastily catching them up he succeeded in smothering the fire, but not until the clothing of each was almost destroyed.

A little fellow about 3 years old, was found under the train, supposed to have fallen out of the window when the train was overturned. His body was badly mangled. Nearby was a negro cabin, which was converted into a hospital, where attention was shown the wounded by the citizens and the railroad men.

Among those deserving mention for special efforts are Austin Ball, roadmaster; Jack Lower, conductor; J. S. Green, local agent, who were energetic in relieving the sufferers.

Aside from the train and its passengers the damage done by the cyclone, which seems to have been purely local, was slight. Its path was not over 30 yards wide and did not extend more than a mile.

TORNADO IN MEMPHIS.

One Person Killed, Several Injured and a Vast Amount of Property Destroyed.

MEMPHIS, Sept. 13.—A portion of North Memphis was swept by a tornado yesterday at 11:30 a. m., destroying and damaging property to the extent of $3,500, and killing one negro, Robert Culp, and injuring two other persons slightly. The portion of the city visited is the seat of the lumber mills and the chief damages suffered fell upon three of them as follows: N. W. Speer, Jr., & Company, mills unroofed, smoke stacks down and a large amount of lumber carried away; Anderson, Tully & Company, stacks down, factory unroofed, blacksmith shop and pump house blown down and their leading department wrecked; Hardwood Lumber company, sawmill unroofed, boiler walls wrecked, stacks blown down and much lumber carried away.

Robert Culp, an assistant fireman, employed by the Hardwood company in his flight ran out to seek a place of safety, was caught beneath a falling smoke stack and killed. One hundred yards of the Wolf river bridge of the Chesapeake, Ohio and Southwestern siding was picked up intact and thrown 100 feet away. In addition to this work of destruction, many negroes' shanties in the neighborhood were unroofed or wholly wrecked, and the Ebenezer Colored Baptist church was damaged. The tornado came from the south and traveled almost due north, and it is said by the weather bureau to have been purely local, no warning having been received of its approach. Conant's cotton gin mills, north of Memphis, was partly unroofed and trees twisted and uprooted as if mere pipe stems. Corn and cotton in the path of the tornado were destroyed.

JAPANESE COREAN TREATY.

The Relations of the Two Countries Clearly Defined.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 13.—A telegram was received at the Japanese legation to the effect that an important treaty has been negotiated between Corea and Japan which authoritatively defines the relations of the two countries toward each other and toward China. The object of the treaty is stated in the preamble to be the mutual desire on the part of the Emperor of Japan and the King of Corea to definitely fix and determine the attitude of each country toward the other.

Mr. Kurino, the Japanese minister, talked to an Associated Press reporter regarding the new treaty between Japan and Corea.

"We have nothing but the announcement of the treaty," said he, "but my inference for its terms is that it will prove highly advantageous to Corea. There has existed there under Chinese auspices the most corrupt system of government known. The constant intrigues of China there have been a threat to the peace of the east. The Japanese government has desired the settlement of this question for the peace of the east. It has been entirely without expectation of territorial aggrandisement or exercise of suzerainty over Corea.

"With the assurance of autonomy to Corea, which is the design of this treaty, there will be opportunity for great improvements in her system of government internal administration and other affairs. Already she has advanced from the condition of the rule of an individual influenced by China and has a cabinet of six members and a prime minister to whom the ruler looks for advice and guidance. This change was made under the advice of the Japanese representative at Seoul."

Mr. Kurino said he did not think the treaty could be called a step toward a peaceful settlement with China, as China was tenacious, on sentimental grounds, of her claim of suzerainty. China might, he said, have put an end to the difficulties before now by consenting to some improvements in Corean affairs.

The improvement in government institutions in Corea would be admitted to require foreign advisors and counselors and these might be Japanese or might be other foreigners. He did not admit that the termination of the present treaty by making peace with China could open the way for a revival of Japan's old claim of suzerainty, which, he said, Japan had expressed relinquish and would put herself in as bad a position as China by renewing.

General Louis Wagner, quartermaster general, reported that the financial condition of the order was excellent. Notwithstanding the loss in membership there is more money in the treasury than a year ago, while all bills have been paid. Over $200,000 has been expended during the year for relief.

The closing report was that of the committee on legislation, Joseph W. Kay, chairman, and it dealt at length with its efforts under instructions from the last encampment, to urge upon the Fifty-third congress to give preference in every public employment to survivors of the war for the Union.

After the reading of reports, appointment of committees, etc., the next business was the fixing of the next encampment place, and Louisville was selected by a unanimous and rising vote.

The nominations for commander-in-chief were then taken up and the names of Messrs. I. N. Walker of Indiana and Lawler of Illinois were presented. Nominations were closed and the convention adjourned.

The political situation is very much mixed. The friends of each of the candidates for commander-in-chief claim to have enough votes pledged to elect their man, and have regularly organized campaign committees working hard for votes. No point is left uncovered. As there are but two candidates the canvass is all the more vigorous.

Yesterday evening the Walker men revised their returns and claimed that they had a majority of 128. They say they have Maine, Montana, Indiana, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Delaware, all solid; Ohio, all but three; half of Michigan, all of Nebraska, Kentucky, Washington, Alaska, California, department of Potomac, Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and Texas, and the majority of Wisconsin. If these claims are true Walker's election is certain.

But the Lawler people claim to be able to beat him out with New York solid; New Jersey, all but two or three; Maryland practically solid; Maine solid; also New Hampshire, Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, North and South Dakota, Oregon and Montana. Wisconsin voted 18 to 12 in favor of Lawler, but its unit vote may be forced and given to him solid. Lawler claims the majority of Michigan, all of Connecticut, Vermont, Rhode Island, District of Columbia, a little less than half of Ohio, all of Kansas, Nebraska, Florida, Louisiana, probably, and half of California.

When the raid came a few days later all members of the family were massacred, except a little girl, who fought so bravely for a hair ornament which she possessed, that the Indians were struck with her courage and spared her life. The father, mother and another daughter were taken to the edge of the timber one mile north of Princeton, where they were burned at the stake. A cemetery was located on the spot in honor of their memory. The old house was afterward owned by Dr. Collins, but has not been inhabited, except by a few woodchoppers for a few months, since old Mr. Collins was found dead there about 10 years ago. It is now likely that this scene of early struggle on many occasions with an uncivilized foe will soon be covered with a field of corn and no trace left of the old place which was once so familiar. The Early Settlers' association, however, have a movement on foot to mark the place with a monument.

CENTRAL CITY, Neb., Sept. 13.—Mrs. G. C. Hulz was murdered by her husband yesterday. The murderer then attempted to commit suicide, shooting himself twice. Reviving he attempted to escape, walking 12 miles before being overtaken. He is 70 years old and a prominent man.

DOWN TO BUSINESS.

The G. A. R. Encampment Finally Get to Work.

THE FIRST DAY'S SESSION.

A Welcome Extended on Behalf of the State and the Two Cities—Reports of the Officers—Committees Appointed—Nominations Made for Commander-in-Chief. Doings of the Ladies' Branch.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 13.—Standing room commanded a high premium in the Grand Opera House yesterday, when the Twenty-eighth national encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic was formally opened. It was a few minutes after 10 o'clock when Commander-in-chief John B. Adams tapped the table with his gavel of cedar and gold and declared the encampment opened.

Governor Pattison was introduced amid vociferous applause and in a few felicitous remarks gave a welcome to the delegates in behalf of the state. Mayor Bernard McKenna spoke for Pittsburgh and Mayor William M. Kennedy for the sister city of Allegheny.

Appropriate responses were made by Commander-in-chief Adams and other delegates.

The report of Adjutant General James F. Meech was attentively listened to. On the question of membership it gave the following figures: Members in good standing June 30, 1893, 397,233; gain by muster in, 161,752; gain by transfer, 6,354; gain by reinstatement, 14,036; gain by delinquent reports, 2,519; total gain, 39,061; aggregate, 483,884. Loss by death, 7,283; loss by honorable discharge, 1,756; loss by transfer, 7,132; loss by suspension, 34,805; loss by dishonorable discharge, 154; loss by delinquent reports, 16,673; total loss, 67,801. Members in good standing June 30, 1894, 369,083; members remaining suspended, 44,999.

This report prompted the commander-in-chief to say, "These figures show that the Grand Army of the Republic has reached the beginning of the end, and each succeeding year will show a gradual decrease of our membership. The long continued depression in business has caused many suspensions, and these we hope to regain when prosperity returns, but it will be impossible for us to recruit our ranks as fast as our members are mustered out by death."

General Louis Wagner, quartermaster general, reported that the financial condition of the order was excellent. Notwithstanding the loss in membership there is more money in the treasury than a year ago, while all bills have been paid. Over $200,000 has been expended during the year for relief.

tween Mrs. Gunlock and Mrs. Linhart. The contest in the Women's Relief Corps has narrowed down to Mrs. Emma R. W. Wallace of Chicago and Mrs. Jennie Meyerhoff of Evansville, Ind., with chances about even.

The Daughters of Veterans have nominated Mrs. Walker of Boston post department president of the Massachusetts department to succeed Miss Nellie King, and she will probably be elected.

RIOTS AT HAMMOND, IND.

The Circuit Court Judge Instructs the Grand Jury to Make an Investigation.

VALPARAISO, Ind., Sept. 13.—Judge John H. Gillett of the Porter-Lake circuit court created a great surprise when he charged the grand jury to make a thorough investigation of the riots at Hammond during the recent strike against the Pullman company. He said: "I would be recreant in my duty if I omitted to call your attention to the acts of violence and lawlessness that occurred in this county during the late strike. While the acts of wrong doing were directed principally at railroads yet as an incident of such acts, men were almost beaten to death because they performed their duties, while others were compelled on pain of death to flee the state because they were suspected of having given information to the identity of wrong-doers.

"I am led to believe that the wrongs committed were done chiefly by non-residents who had been driven over the state line by the military, yet it is a fact that certain residents of this county were leaders in the acts so committed. There can be no question as to the abstract right of a man not only to strike but also to secure the co-operation of his fellow workmen in a strike by entreaty or by an appeal to reason. To take from the laboring man the right to quit an employment of uncertain tenure and to solicit others so employed to do so, is to take from him his only weapon, inasmuch as he is ordinarily without any considerable accumulation of money or property, and he must make the value of his services felt speedily or the gaunt wolf of starvation will compel him to accept such wages as his employer tends. The limit is that the striker must not molest the person or the property of his employer, and must not interfere with the freedom of those who are content to accept as a compensation what the employer offers.

"It is clear that there can be no justification for mob rule under a form of government like ours. Our citizens, both native and naturalized, must be educated to respect the law. No one has a greater reason than the laboring man to demand the enforcement of the law against those who have committed violence in the sacred name of labor. The particular cases I wish you to specially investigate are those wherein individuals have been injured and not for crimes committed against the property of the railroads unless a request is made to do so."

SENSATION IN RELIGIOUS CIRCLES

A Case That May Rival the Briggs Heresy Trial.

RICHMOND, Ind., Sept. 13.—A sensation, the effects of which will reach throughout Quakerdom, was caused here yesterday by the announcement that Dr. Dongan Clark was removed from the ministry of the Friends' church because he submitted himself to the rite of baptism.

He is also a teacher of theology in Earlham college, and it is believed that his action will have a far-reaching effect from his prominence, as he has been a minister 20 years, and is well known all the world over. He is one of the most prominent Quakers in the west. Dr. Clark assigns as a reason his belief that a preponderance of Biblical testimony favors baptism. It is thought that the case may rival the Briggs heresy trial.

Livery Stable and Laundry Burned.

DAYTON, O., Sept. 13.—The livery stable of Meyers & Brothers on East Fifth street was badly damaged by fire. A quantity of grain and feed, a number of buggies and three valuable horses were lost in flames. The Model laundry works adjoining was also damaged. Both buildings were owned by Mrs. Fred Kehm. The loss is estimated at $7,000 or $8,000, partly covered by insurance. The fire is supposed to have caught from the boiler of the laundry works.

P. Mast & Company are arranging to put 400 men to work shortly.</p

ELECTIONS have come off in five States this fall. The Democrats have carried three of them and the Republicans two.

THE editor of the Ledger has had several spasms over the returns from Maine. A study of the figures elsewhere will cure him.

YES, yes, Br'er Davis, we've heard from Vermont and Maine. But you don't seem to have heard from Tennessee, Alabama and Arkansas. We're one ahead, you see.

SPEAKING of the South, the St. Louis Globe-Democrat says "there is good reason to believe that such a period of prosperity is dawning for that section as it has not known since the war." And it has not been a month since the Globe-Democrat was insisting that the new tariff law would ruin not only the South but the entire country, observes the Courier-Journal.

FREE wool banishes the sheep business from Greenup County. This county is adapted to sheep raising, but the Wilson bill knocks such an industry silly. Shame on such legislation.—Greenup Gazette.

This is really too bad. But has the Gazette heard about those Eastern parties who are stocking farms with sheep? They have a different opinion of the Wilson bill. And doesn't the Gazette know that the price of wool has been advancing since the McKinley tariff was repealed? Brother Rardin ought to keep the Greenup sheep raisers posted.

WHILE the political shepherds of Ohio are raising a great hullabaloo over wool, and even Texas Democrats are giving some indications of dissatisfaction, a peculiar counter movement has been begun in Massachusetts. A gentleman named Wood has recently purchased two farms near Natick for the purpose of raising sheep. He will begin with a thousand sheep, but the experiment is expected to develop in a few years into gigantic proportions. Mr. Wood believes, with Fitzherbert, that "sheep is the most profitableness cattle that a man can have," and that they can be profitably raised in Massachusetts on a large scale.

Mr. Wood has probably been studying the market reports since the passage of the Wilson bill and knows that wool is advancing in price. And he has, no doubt, been reading up on the history of the tariff on this article, and knows that wool brought a higher price prior to 1867 than it has since then under protection.

FIGURES FROM MAINE.

The returns from the Maine election show that the "phenomenal" Republican majority is due simply to the fact that the Democrats didn't turn out and vote. In 1882 300 towns cast the following vote:

Republican.....	54,853
Democratic.....	43,859
Populist.....	2,990
Prohibition.....	2,057

This year the same towns voted as follows:

Republican.....	57,594
Democratic.....	24,104
Populist.....	1,779
Prohibition.....	3,232

Figures don't lie. The above comparison shows that about 20,000 Democrats did not think it worth while to go to the polls this year. They had no hope of carrying the State, nor of electing any of the Congressmen, so just remained at home. But they are there, ready to fall upon the Republicans and scare the life out of them. And, by the way, the Republicans must have been a little scared this year, judging from the way they rushed in their big guns at the wind-up.

How do the Republican calamity howlers like the following picture from the New York Dry Goods Economist?

It is quite a question whether there was ever crowded into two consecutive weeks as much cloak business as has been done in this city during the past fortnight. The buyers have not only been numerous, but clamorous, and the spirit of conservatism and doubt which has so long actuated the retail trade has given way to an eagerness and anxiety to purchase which have caused almost a stampede. Every leading house in the city has had all it could do to handle the crowds of customers now in the market, and the throngs increase daily.

The Economist is not a political journal, and does not give a partisan view of the situation.

BUSINESS BOOMING.

Things Going With a Rush in New York—What a Catlettsburger Says.

[Ashland News.]

D. H. Carpenter, the Catlettsburg merchant, just back from a trip to New York, makes a wonderful report of the business rush at that point. Never in the history of the city has the rush been so large, claims Mr. Carpenter, and it was estimated that while he was there 50,000 merchants were present purchasing. All of the wholesale houses are kept continually on the jump, and orders are gotten off on time only by superhuman effort. The balance of trade for this month in New York and other Eastern cities, will be stupendous, and will pass all expectations or even comprehension. The change, says Mr. Carpenter, is due to the passing of the tariff bill. All the merchants and business men have been holding off, and now that something is decided upon, all is going with a rush.

Enough Orders to Keep 'Em Busy a Year.

PHILADELPHIA, PA., September 10th.—There was a general resumption in the glass business in South Jersey to-day, and by Wednesday there will hardly be an idle glass factory at Millville, Clayton, Williamstown, Glassboro, Malaga, Bridgeton and Woodbury. All the factories went into full blast. The coming season promises to be the best for years in the glass trade, and the outlook for continued work throughout the season is excellent. The work is being started on a basis very satisfactory to all. Most of the larger factories have orders now on their books to run them throughout the year.

It Pays.

The Chicago Trade Bulletin, which has been investigating the subject of feeding wheat to live stock, reports that there is a general use of the cereal for that purpose. Replies have been received to the Trade Bulletin's inquiries, all the way from New York to Colorado, as well as from several Southern States. A compilation of the results of wheat-feeding experiments shows that the wheat brings 92 cents a bushel when turned into pork instead of 54 cents when sold on the market.

THE high price of corn and the low price of wheat will, it is said, induce whisky distillers to use large quantities of the latter this fall and winter in the manufacture of their goods. Distilling from wheat is not entirely new, as several malt houses in different parts of the country have previously tried it with results which we understand were satisfactory. It has not usually been thus used on account of its cost. If wheat is to be used to any considerable extent for making malt that fact in conjunction with the widespread use of this cereal for stock food should assist in holding up the price of wheat even in the face of the great crop and big receipts in primary markets.

KENTUCKY METHODISTS.

One Branch Now in Session at Frankfort and the Other Down at Louisville.

The Kentucky Conference of the M. E. Church, South, convened in annual session Wednesday at Frankfort.

Bishop Duncan addressed the conference at 9 o'clock and talked from the Third Epistle of John, and dealt holiness as advocated by some Methodist ministers hard blows. His discourse was eloquent, and a masterly exposition of the Wesleyan doctrines.

Rev. John Reeves, Presiding Elder of the Maysville district, was re-elected Secretary, and appointed J. R. Savage Statistical Secretary. S. W. Peeples was selected as Railroad Certificate Secretary.

The call of the roll was ordered, and 120 delegates answered.

Among routine business was an address by General Secretary of Board Missions Morrison, who reported that during the past four years churches in the conference have raised $240,000 more than during the past preceding four years, notwithstanding depression in business.

The Kentucky Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church convened Wednesday at Louisville. Eighty ministers met in Trinity Church, Bishop Merrill in the chair.

Dr. Hanford, of Covington, was selected Secretary, with C. W. Sutton assistant.

Dr. Walsh stated that these ministers preached to 200,000 people.

Dr. Savage, of the American Bible Society, addressed the conference and said there are 300,000 children in Kentucky who attend Sunday school.

ANOTHER DEFEAT.

The Maysville Boys Downed Again by Paris—The Ashlands Coming To-morrow.

The Maysville boys were again defeated by Paris yesterday, the score standing 14 to 3. The Bourbon team won simply by superior playing. The accident to Taylor on the day of the first game badly crippled the Maysville team, and had it not been for this the result might have been different.

The boys arrived home last night. Brunner pitched for the Maysvilles yesterday. Hill caught part of the game and Cox the rest.

The Ashland team will come down tomorrow for two games and big crowds will no doubt go out to see both contests.

The Paris team has disbanded for the season, and Maysville has secured Kehoe and G. Reamon for the games with Ashland. "Pot" Reamon will be here also. Maysville was unable to secure Knorr, Schabel and Berte of the Lexington team.

The Election Law.

Secretary of State John W. Headley has just received 20,000 copies of the election law which he had printed. They will be distributed at once to the County Court Clerks throughout the State to be put into the hands of the election officers.

The Secretary of State was charged with the administration of the election law by the Legislature of 1891-2-3, and the step he has just taken was deemed absolutely necessary in view of the newness of the law and the vast number of inquiries that have recently been received concerning it at his office. The penalties for violation of the law are heavy, and all election officers should be advised as to its provisions.

The Modern Mother.

Has found that her little ones are improved more by the pleasant laxative, Syrup of Figs, when in need of the laxative effect of a gentle remedy, than by any other, and that it is more acceptable to them. Children enjoy it and it benefits them. The true remedy, Syrup of Figs, is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only.

AT HIGH NOON.

The Taylor-Flora Nuptials Were Solemnized Wednesday at Germantown.

The wedding of Miss Fannie Flora, which was announced in the BULLETIN yesterday, took place at Germantown at high noon and was quite an elegant affair.

The groom, Mr. F. J. Taylor, of Pineville, is one of the most enterprising business men of that growing mountain city.

A large and happy crowd of Mason and Bracken people were in attendance and enjoyed the hospitality of Judge T. M. Dora and his estimable wife, uncle and aunt of the handsome bride.

CHANCELLOR RICHIE IS SORRY,
But the Pythian German Interdiction Has Come to Stay.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—Supreme Chancellor W. B. Richie of the supreme lodge, Knights of Pythias, when questioned regarding the action of that body in interdicting the use of the German ritual and adopting a resolution whereby saloonkeepers and bartenders were prohibited from becoming members of the order, said:

"The supreme lodge of which I am at the head has the power to decide what ritual shall be made, in which language it shall be written or whether any ritual shall be used at all. We have decided that in America the language of the greatest number of our people shall be used in the ritual, and that is the English. This was the decision of the supreme lodge, and by that I mean to stand. If we were organizing a lodge in France we naturally would elect to have the ritual in French; if in Germany, in the language of that country. But in America it is to be in English. I regret very much that our German friends have taken offense at our decision, but they can not help it. I have many friends among Germans, and indeed am president of one German society, and it pains me to learn of their withdrawal. Of the resolution in regard to saloonkeepers and bartenders I wish to say that it reads: 'No saloonkeeper, bartender or professional gambler shall be eligible to membership in this order.'"

Hippolyte's Stern Reprisal.

NEW YORK, Sept. 13.—The steamer Ozama from Haytien ports brings news of an attempt to assassinate President Hippolyte's married daughter, who resides with him at Port au Prince. The attempt proved a failure. Hippolyte at once ordered the arrest of 10 men whom he believed to be the instigators of the plot. These men were arrested and shot within 24 hours. Much trouble is anticipated owing to the condition of the president's health and his expected demise.

Sept. 13.—Advices received here from Samoa, dated Sept. 6, confirmed the dispatches already received, saying that the British warship Curacao and the German warship Buzzard some time previously threatened to bombard Aana, and that thereupon the rebel chiefs went on board the Curacao, submitted to Chief Malietoa and gave up 100 guns. It is added that while the war is declared to be over for the present fears are expressed that hostilities will be renewed in a few months.

Chicago Murder.

CHICAGO, Sept. 13.—Lawyer Claude L. Waller, who was shot Saturday last by Lawyer Leo Roeder, died at the Polyclinic hospital Wednesday. WEEKLY CROP REPORT.

What the Kentucky Weather Service Says of the Outlook—A Local Issue.

Excessively hot, dry weather prevailed, relieved only on Monday, the 10th, by local showers and a decidedly cool wave that overspread the State on that afternoon and evening.

Again the cry for rain is general and complaints of crops withering and firing from the scorching sun and parched earth. From correspondents' reports it appears that some sections have had but little rain since early summer, and there the corn and tobacco is almost a failure, especially on the uplands. They say that water is scarce and that stock is suffering for food and that pastures and gardens are dry and brown.

Others, who live in the parts where rain fell, speak more encouragingly, while some declare that the reports of the evil effect of the drought have been exaggerated and that crops are doing well, in their neighborhood.

From such conflicting reports it is difficult to summarize the weather and crop conditions for the whole State. It is a local issue, necessarily so under such weather conditions as have existed the past summer—an exceedingly warm and dry season, relieved by but a few general rains and not a great many showers.

Farm work does not seem to be progressing rapidly nor favorably. The ground has been too hard and dry for final plowing, so little has been done. Tobacco cutting is still going on, but is not yet general. Potatoes are said to be yielding only fairly well.

Reports received from correspondents written since the rain of the 10th indicate that they were highly beneficial, but insufficient.

THE FALL TRADE.

It Looks Very Favorable, Says a Republican Journal—Increased Sales Reported.

The Cincinnati Tribune has the following in reference to the business outlook:

"One of our large dry goods jobbers reports their sales during the past two weeks at 40 per cent. in excess of their sales during the corresponding two weeks of last year. They say the demand has been quite general and that they are now crowded with orders. They are selling staple cottons and woolens freely, but their largest business is in notions, hosiery, underwear and miscellaneous goods, such as are required by country dealers for fall and winter retailing.

"Another extensive jobbing firm reports the volume of their wholesale business largely increased, especially during the past week, when they had 150 more buyers present than during the corresponding week of last year. They are now withdrawing goods from bond and finding a ready and healthy demand for them. Their present business is 40 to 50 per cent. larger than a year ago.

"The same favorable condition was found to exist with other dry goods jobbers, and altogether the present wholesaling business in this branch seems quite satisfactory. The boot and shoe men also appear to be doing a good business, with a steady increase in volume. The auction business in boots and shoes is decidedly better with largely increased sales. Summing up, the situation in this branch of trade is one of encouragement."

Business must be very good when a Republican journal like the Tribune talks this way.

Seeing Plants Grow.

In the laboratory the growth of a plant may be rendered visible by attaching a fine platinum wire to the stem or growing part. The other end of the wire, to which is fastened a pointed piece of charcoal, is pressed gently against a drum. The drum is covered with white paper and kept revolving by clockwork.

Of course if the growth is stationary a straight line is marked on the paper, but even the slightest increase is shown by the inclined tracing on the paper.

By a simple modification of this arrangement, the growth of a plant can be rendered audible. The drum must be covered by narrow strips of platinum foil, say one-eighth of an inch wide and one-eighth between each strip.

If the strips of platinum be made to complete the circuit of a galvanic battery to which an electric bell is coupled up, then the bell will continue ringing while the plant grows an eighth of an inch, followed by silence while the pointer is passing over the space between two strips, for the next growth of an eighth of an inch, and so on.

The growth of some very rapidly growing plants and the opening of some flowers, such as the compass plant, can be heard direct by means of the microphone. By the above means it has been proved that plants grow most rapidly between 4 and 6 a.m.—New York Journal.
